Bro. Germain Vonderscher, S.M. (1897-1978)

"Accept people as they are; take things as they come; and keep smiling." This often-repeated saying of Bro. Germain rather well sums up his life. He not only accepted people, he welcomed them, drew them to himself and to his Brothers. Correspondance sealed the ties with distant friends; availability formed a steady stream of those who passed through his Information office, talking in varied languages, trading stamps, sharing sips of wine. Doctors who cared for his multiple ailments, old students, children awarded with bits of candy—no one was too important or too insignificant to be drawn into his magnetic field.

Bro. Germain took things as they came. He had memories of war service in Africa, moments of grandeur when decorated by the governments of France and Japan, the joy of his Diamond Jubilee as a Marianist. He took it all in stride. He could be most disorderly in his physical surroundings, shabby in his cast-off or bargain sale clothes. But he could also put order in his stamps and gain profit for the school and the Society he loved. He could study the marvel of bees and take their honey for his Brothers (especially Bro. Imhoff) and his friends. He took sickness as it came, and when relieved by the miracle of prayer he could believe and accept God's healing as well. He could appreciate the beauty of nature, plant his rows of primroses and pansies each spring and enjoy the glory of the marigolds until the first snows blinded their burning faces.

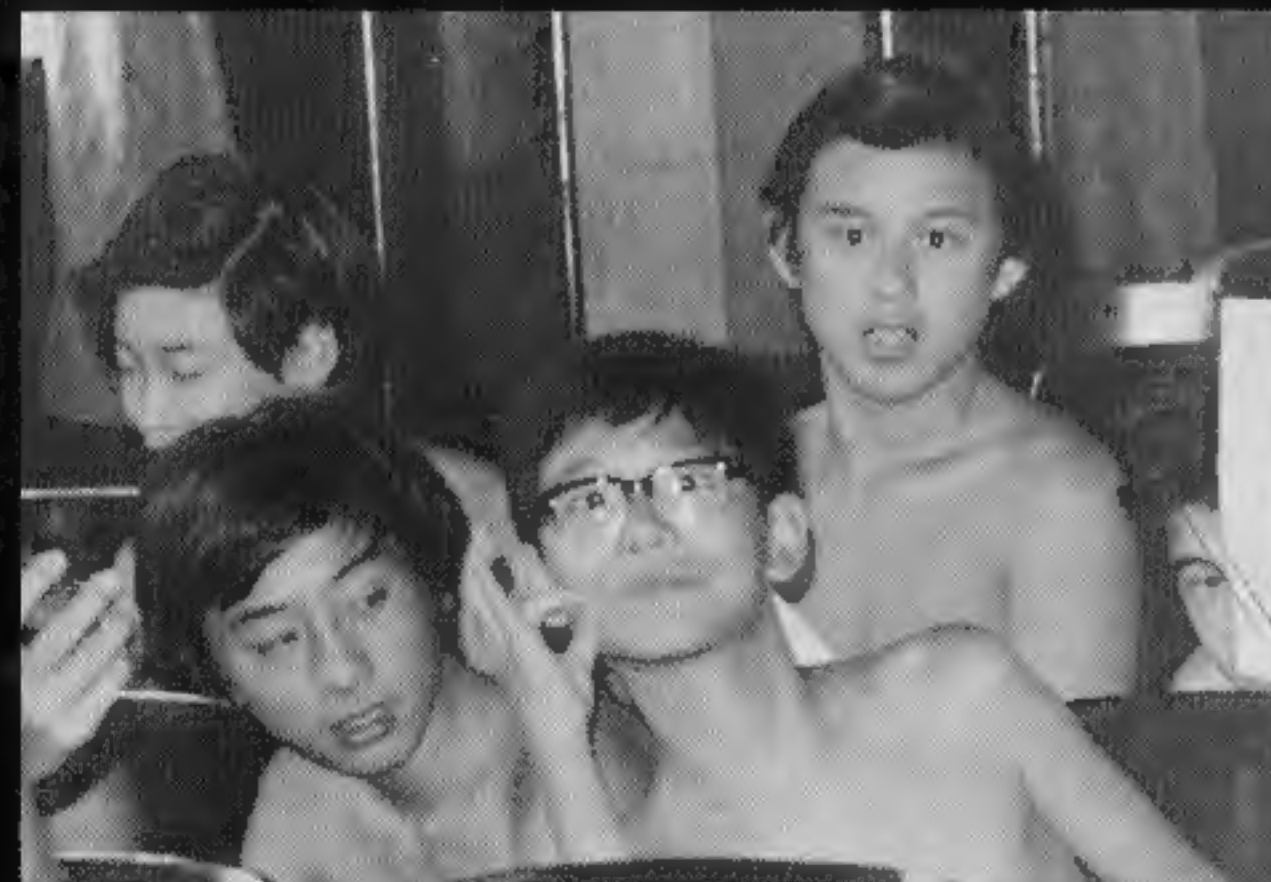

Yes, Bro. Germain, you kept smiling when your twisted, aching back made movement impossible, when asthma choked your breathing, when cancer challenged the greatness of your heart. Our love grew deeper as we visited your sickbed. How you smiled when we sang the Marseillaise and disturbed the whole hospital ward! Then your smile retreated inwardly as your life softened away.

Yes, we remember you, Bro. Germain, for you accepted people as they are and transformed them because of your acceptance. You took things as they came and watched them grow, burst, and sparkle. You kept on smiling, even in pain. Of course there were gruff admonitions to students who lingered in the building or failed to close doors. But your smile was the sun of many a day and the solace of not a few nights. The primroses bloom again in the garden this spring—in your honor.

Francis Grisez, S.M.

*A thing of beauty is a joy forever:
Its loveliness increases; it will never Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
Full of sweet dreams, and health, and quiet breathing.*

The Graduates

MY WAY

Francois Revouz

And now the end is near and so I face the final curtain
My friend I'll say it clear
I'll state my case of which I'm certain
I've lived a life that's full
I'll travel each and every highway and more, much more than this
I did it my way

Regrets, I've had a few
but then again, too few to mention
I did what I had to do
And saw it through without exemption
I planned each chartered course
Each careful step upon the hi-way
and more, much more than this
I did it my way

Yes, there were times I'm sure you knew when I bit off more than I could chew
But through it all, when there was doubt
I ate it up and spit it out
I faced it all and I stood tall
And did it my way

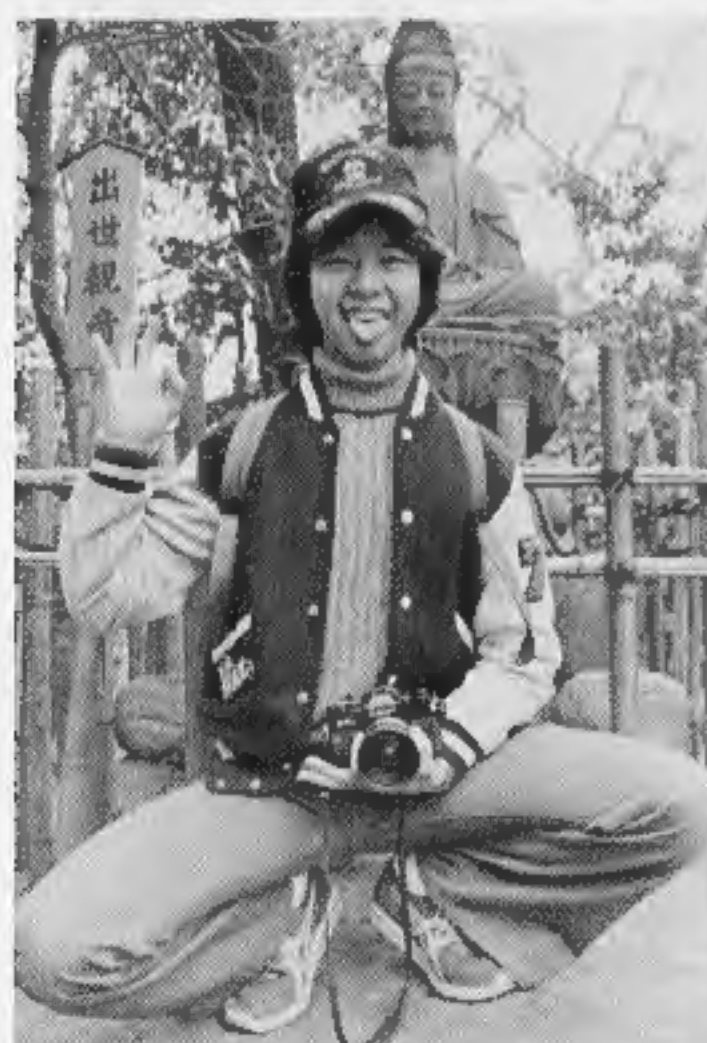

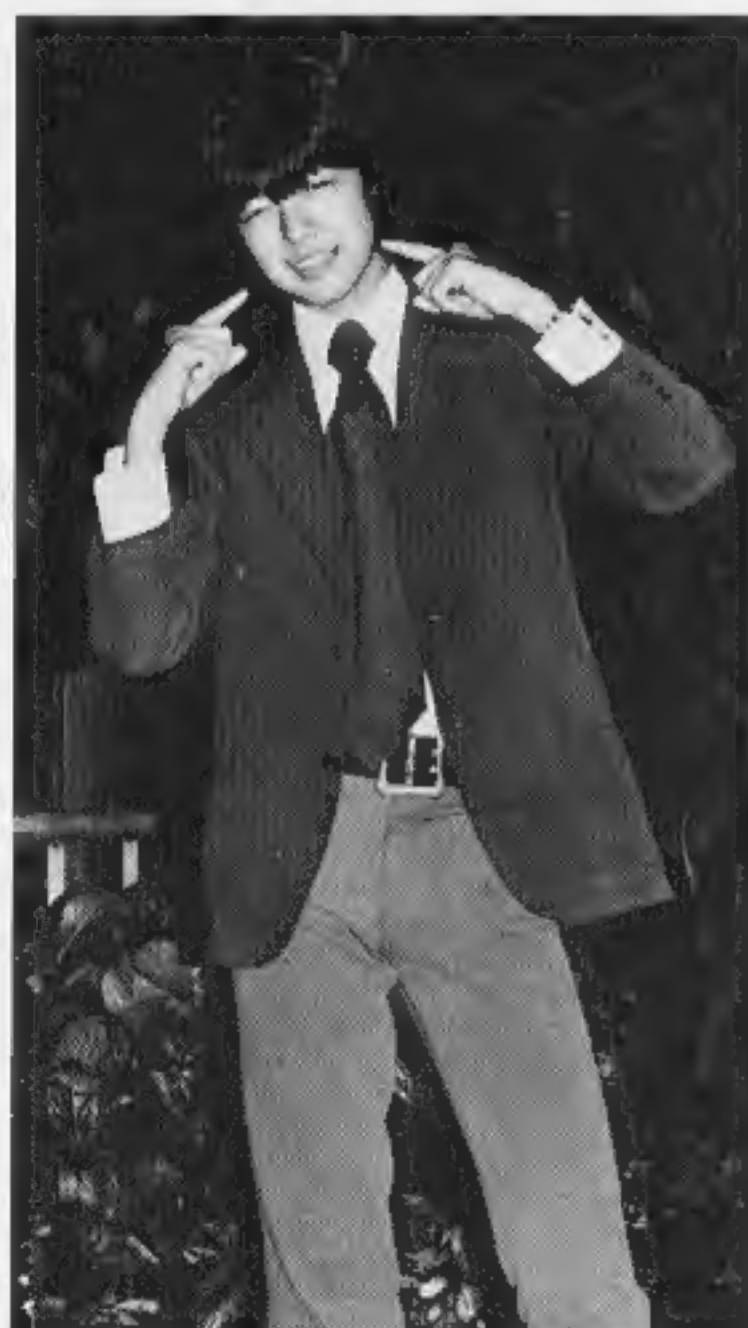

I've loved, I've laughed and cried
I've had my fills, my share of losing and now as tears subside
I find it all so amusing
To think I did all that and may I say, not in a shy way
oh no, oh no, not me
I did it my way

For what is a man?
What has he got if not himself
then he has not?
To say the things he truly feels and not the words of one who kneels
The record shows I took the blows
and did it my way
Yes, it was my way.

Long time gone

Then time and the river
must stop in their tracks
or roll on forever
There's no turning back
I've waited too long to be left here like this
Long time gone

Then weep no more
The heart is pure
These hands are sure like a river

The love we learn
The love we burn
A love that burns

Dear Graduates of 1979,

"Partir—c'est mourir un peu." This French quotation can be translated: to go away is to die, at least a little bit. Many of you have invested twelve years of your life in St. Joseph College. Very likely it is the longest period of time you will be associated with any institution. No wonder your going away is a little like dying.

St. Joseph College has brought a great deal to you over the years. In years to come you will value more and more the dedicated service of your teachers. You have witnessed many improvements in facilities, especially the new library available to you throughout high school. Best of all, St. Joseph College was the setting of precious friendships nurtured over the years at S.J.C.

In your turn you have given a great deal to St. Joseph College. Just this year half of your class is on the honor roll. Practically every activity at S.J.C. has benefited by your participation. Your willingness to help in service to the school is legendary.

My happiest memories of the Class of 1979 concern the many occasions the school called for help, and you were among the first to heed the call. Late afternoons, evenings, weekends and holidays found you helping out where help was needed. This spirit of help may well be your salvation. Continue serving wherever you go. Believe me, people will forgive you a lot.

Be sure of our prayers throughout your life and beyond the grave. Our best wishes follow you wherever you go. Please come back and visit your school. We owe you. You owe us. God love you.

Sincerely yours,
Brother Donald McKee, S.M.

Mother's Club

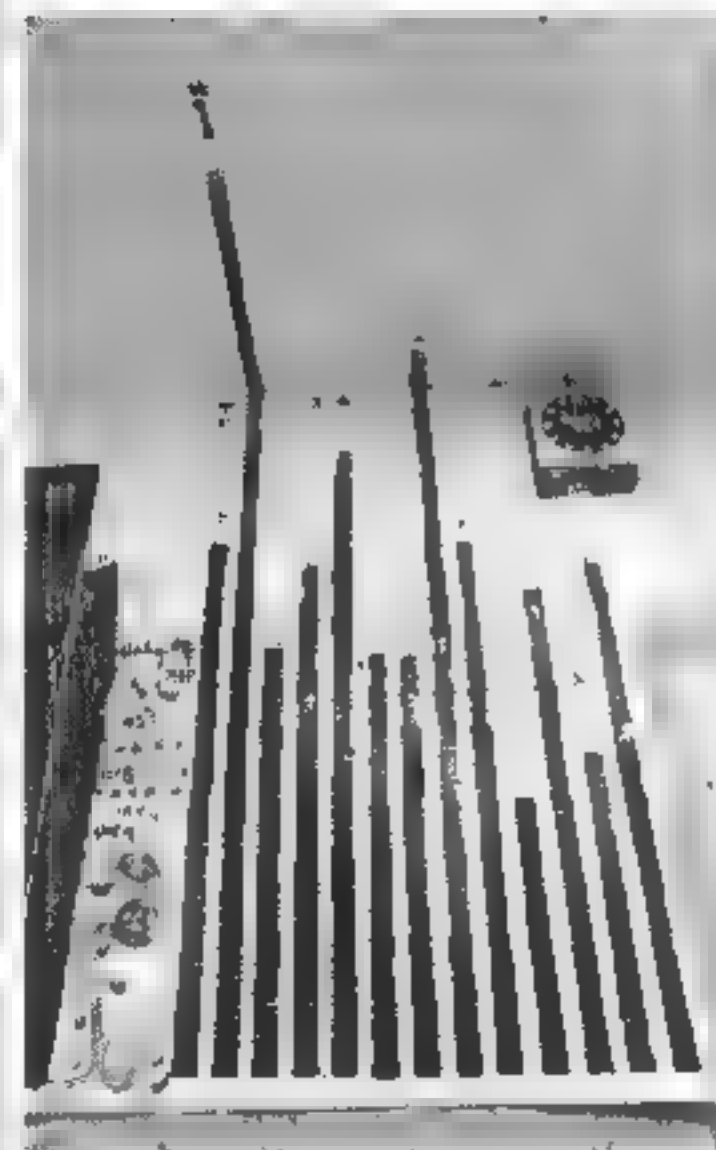

The Mother's Club has always been a very important organization and part of the family of St. Joseph College. Its purpose is to assist in the needs of the school with funds and activities. Without its help and assistance, the school would have a difficult time for its continued progress and constant needs.

The main activities of the Mother's Club are: the annual Christmas Dinner Dance and raising fund project, assisting the Bingo Food Fair Committee, (another Parents Organization) being involved with the Field Day of the students, and assisting in the two Graduation parties of St. Joseph College.

In the last few years in particular, the Mothers have assisted in several vast school projects: new lockers, new desks, linoleum floors in the classrooms and hallways, paying off the debts of the renewal of the heating system, and the new library.

This year was the most successful Christmas Dinner Dance and fund raising project in the history of the school under the leadership of Mrs. Ryoko Ishii and her officers.

The St. Joseph College Alumni Association is made up of alumni and friends who had been associated with the School. Its purposes are mainly three: (a) To foster mutual bonds of friendship and good-fellowship among SJC former students and friends by annual meetings and by social and other activities; (b) To enable the Faculty to keep in contact with former students in whose spiritual and material welfare they have a deep and lasting interest; and (c) To establish bonds of friendship and interest between the former students and present students of SJC, and to enable the former students to assist especially the graduating class in their careers and employments. For approximately the last twenty-five years, the main event of the Association has been the annual dinner-dance which because of its growing proportions has had to be held at the Pacific Hotel in Tokyo with close to 450 in attendance. Its proceeds go towards the Alumni Scholarship Fund (in existence since 1960) to help the School in its many needs. Other events have been the golf tournaments and the occasional St. Valentine's get-togethers. As so the Alumni has been active in helping graduates find employment.

Juniors

Junior Class:

Of the three years that we have been in high school, this past year—the Junior year—has been the most difficult. Besides worrying about the class excursion and the get-togethers with Saint Maur, we had to plan the prom and ushers for the assemblies. I feel that although this was our bane at times it benefitted us by giving us more responsibility. Now that we have finished the year, I am glad that we had the added responsibility. We are avidly looking forward to when we graduate as Seniors in 1980.

In our class there are many people with various talents. For example, some like to surf and some like to go after girls. Although people in our class have different talents, there is one common talent that everyone in our class has, that is the talent to get together and to do things as one group with high class spirit. Telling you the truth, our class cannot be described in words, we are what we are!

Freshman Class:

The Class of '82 is the class which probably most enjoys having fun in the whole school. Sometime this fun goes over the line and others take this as immature behavior; however, the goal of our class is "maturity." If the 20 different characters in our class and our strong spirit of team-work can accomplish this goal, this class is going to be the best in the school.

The student council of '79 had chosen the theme "TACT." We aimed to retain possession of the former theme "ACT" and "TOGETHERNESS," in a new form which will sum up the preceeding years. We believed that tolerance, awareness, communication, and togetherness, will connect and bond us into one. Although we had faced problems and confusions, "TACT" had always kept us as an integral body. We experienced the warm and helpful remedy in times of sorrow, and the strong support at times of struggles from the dependent student body. We were very glad that all the students put their efforts in the activities. Thank you very much, people, and we hope that tact will always stay with you the rest of your life.

Being a unique organization by the fact that Sodality is both on the Student Council Committee and an individual club, we have had many accomplishments during this enjoyable and active year. The Club looks forward to maintain the pride and spirit of St. Joseph College.

Chang, Mr. Christopher

The 7th Graders look forward to one of the most memorable years of their student life. Their efforts this year are to love and to be a friend, rather than learning about charity and friendship; to develop an emotional sense of common identity, instead of an intellectual awareness of unity. Their 7th Grade year marks their first significant step toward a cosmopolitan manhood.

Cruz, Mrs Pia

Eighteen energetic boys, ranging in ages 9 to 10, make up the current school year's Grade 4. Most of them started school at Saint Joseph College which largely explains the fact that they are a disciplined lot, homogenous in many ways and seem to be all committed to doing their level best in the learning process. They are keenly aware of what is expected of them in class. Their study habits are commendable and their responses to assignments are what any other teacher would be proud of. Indeed, there is no dull moment for them in the class.

Events

September 6th
First Day of School

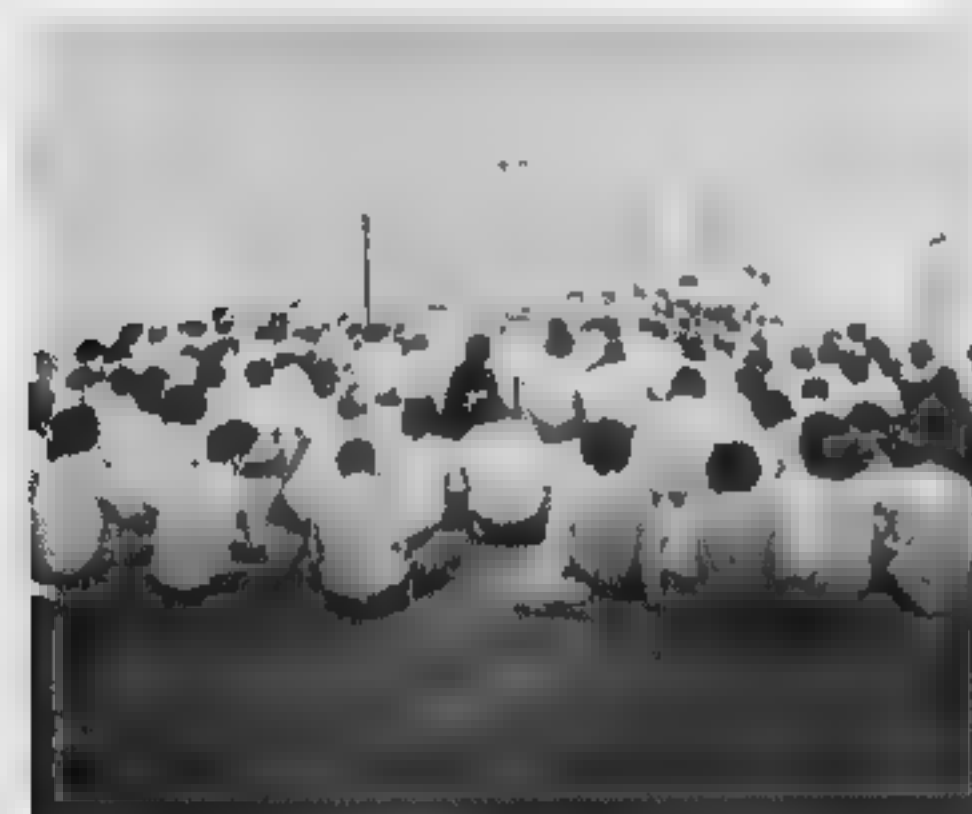

The first day is the day everyone, including the teachers, hated to come across, with the exception of the Seniors, who looked forward to graduation. Every other student looked "backward" for this day to come.

14th
Student Council Orientation

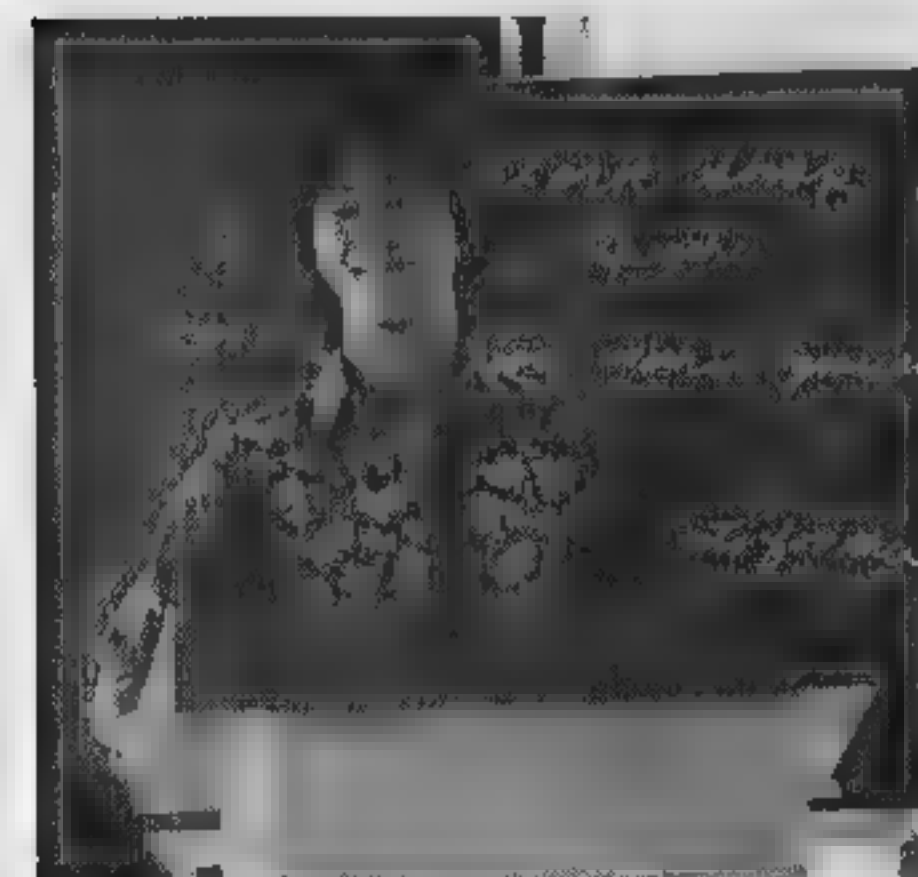

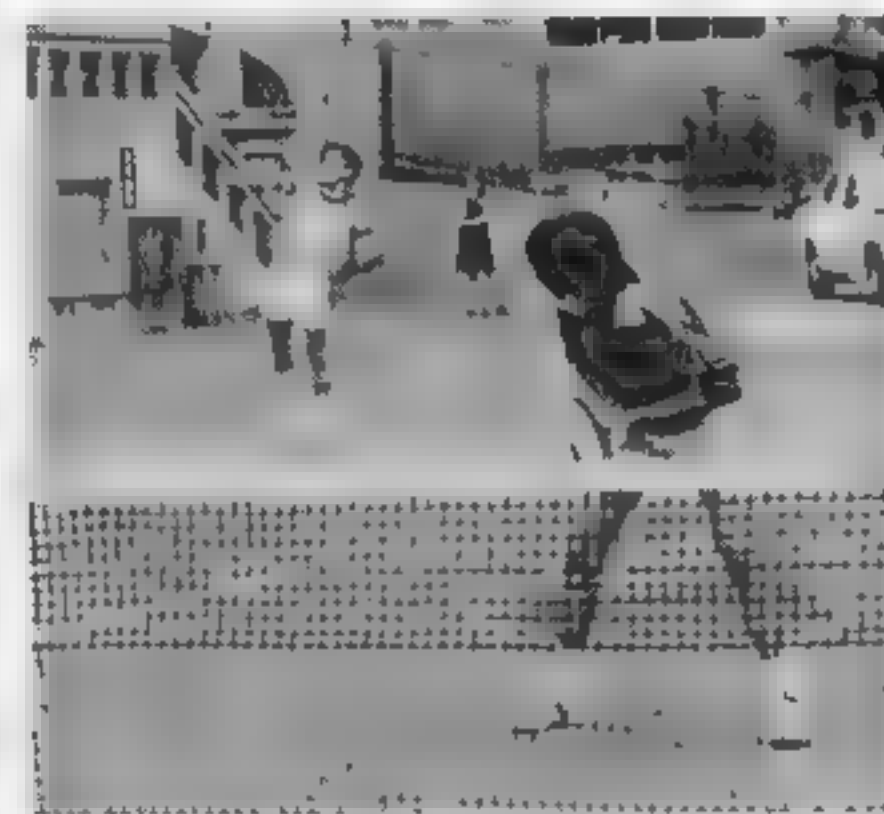

15th
First Friday Mass

21st
Tennis: vs Zama

Led by Coach Bentson and Captain Yoshida, the anxious members of the team surmounted every handicap and challenged for the second time, striving to take revenge for the previous year. This team's strenuous effort resulted in Tominaga taking third place. There were a few other victories, as well as disastrous losses. Now that they are used to a tight atmosphere, real victories should be at hand next year.

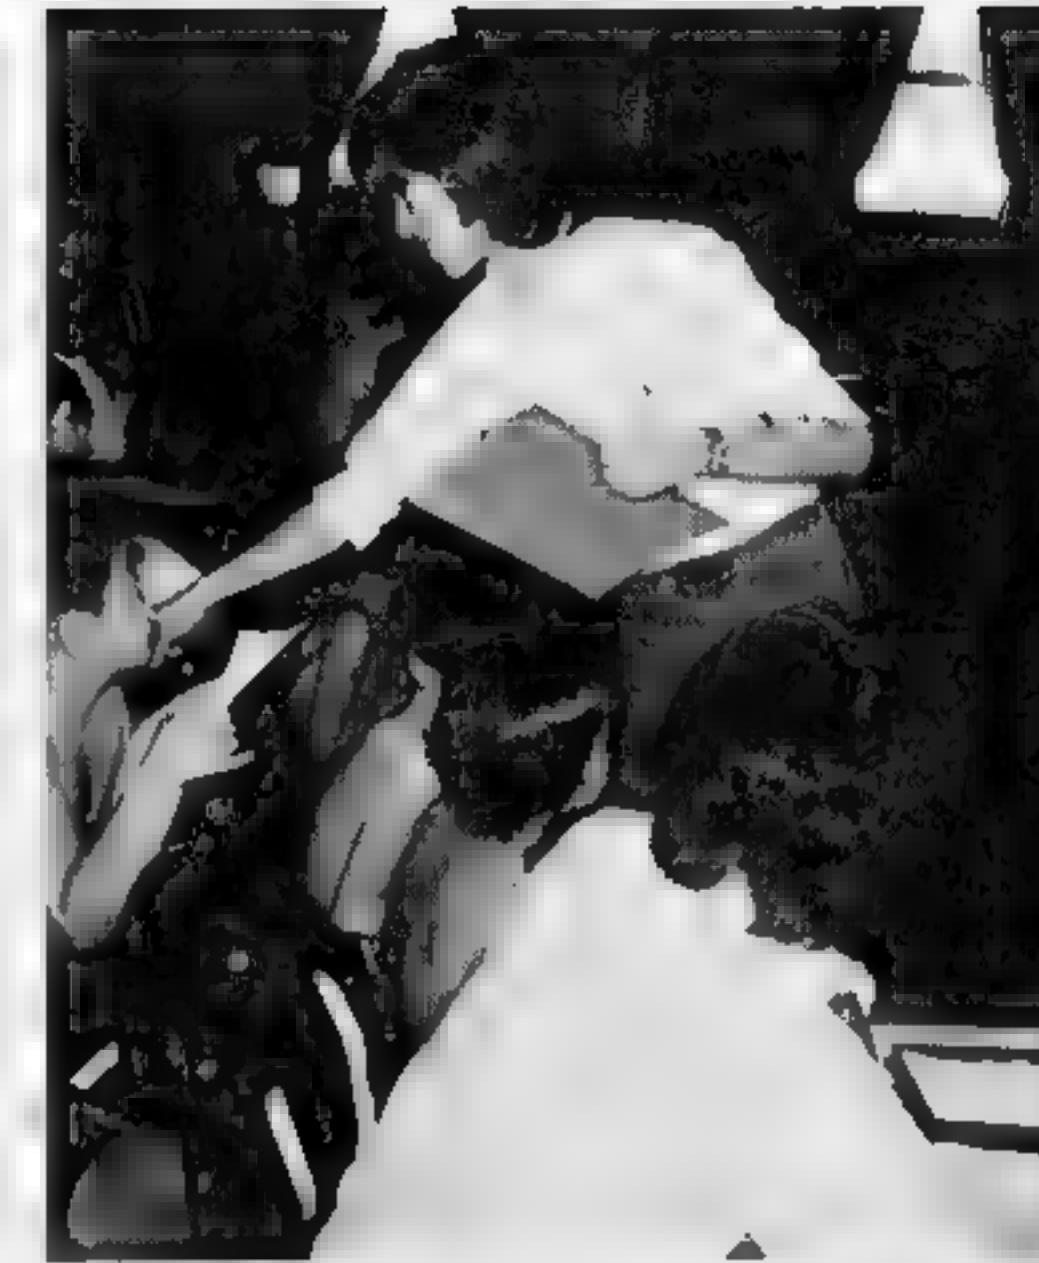

24th
Student Council Workshop

The annual interschool Student Council Workshop was held at the audiovisual center, with all the representatives of St. Maur, Sancta Maria, YIS, and SJC gathering. Acting as the trigger of the year, at this workshop, the theme TACT was introduced, and the endeavors of the year that were yet to come were discussed.

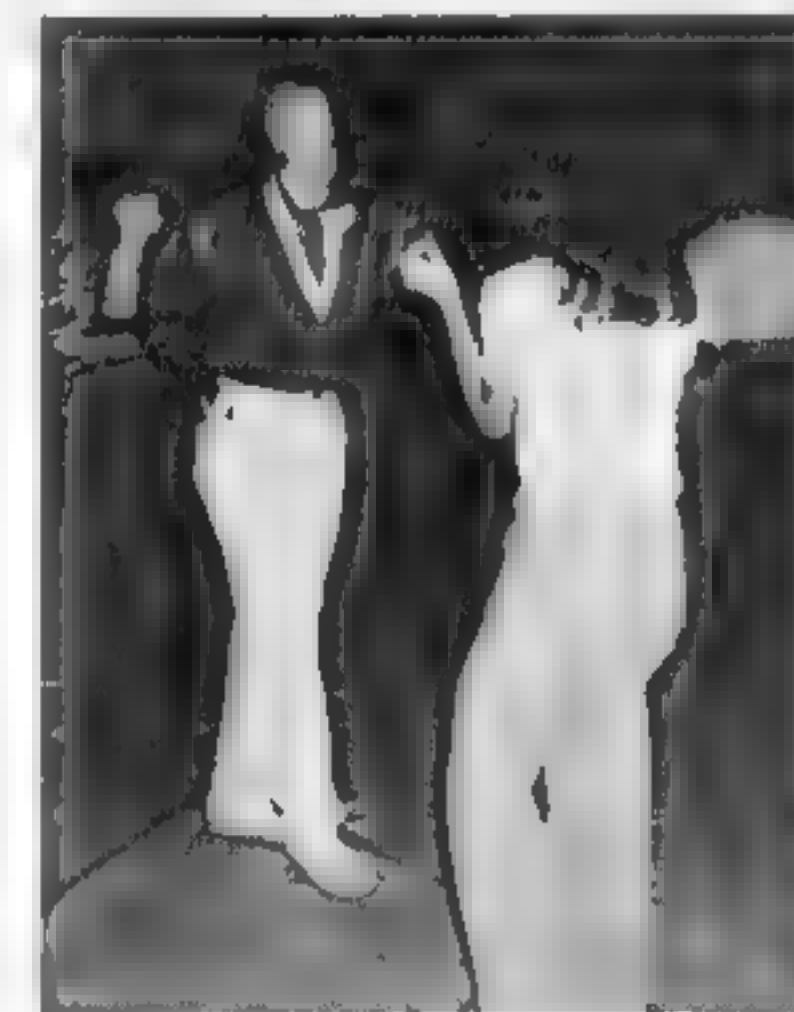

28th
Physical Examination

The physical examination took place in our spacious auditorium. It went on smoothly with the help of the Juniors and the Seniors. Several doctors came from various hospitals to examine the students. As a result, every student was proved to be HEALTHY.

29th I.B.S. 60th Anniversary

October 29, 1978 was the 60th anniversary of the International Boy Scout—Troop I. This was celebrated in the garden of Berrick Hall. Bro. Jimmi Masuura and Mr. John Mittwer, who is a veteran scout of Troop I, were invited to present awards to honorable scouts.

November 2nd

Culture Day Assembly

"The Fantastics" was the name of the Sophomore production performed on this day. Piloted by Mr. Alff, the musical comedy kept the audience entertained. But what probably drew the audience's attention was the presence of girls from St. Maur's more than the play itself.

Field Trip to Space Expo

7th

After a long period of time, the whole high school got together and went to the Space Expo. This usually does not happen—classes usually do not want to go out with other classes. But this day was special. The high school student body thought it important to study as an integral group about spacecraft and outer space.

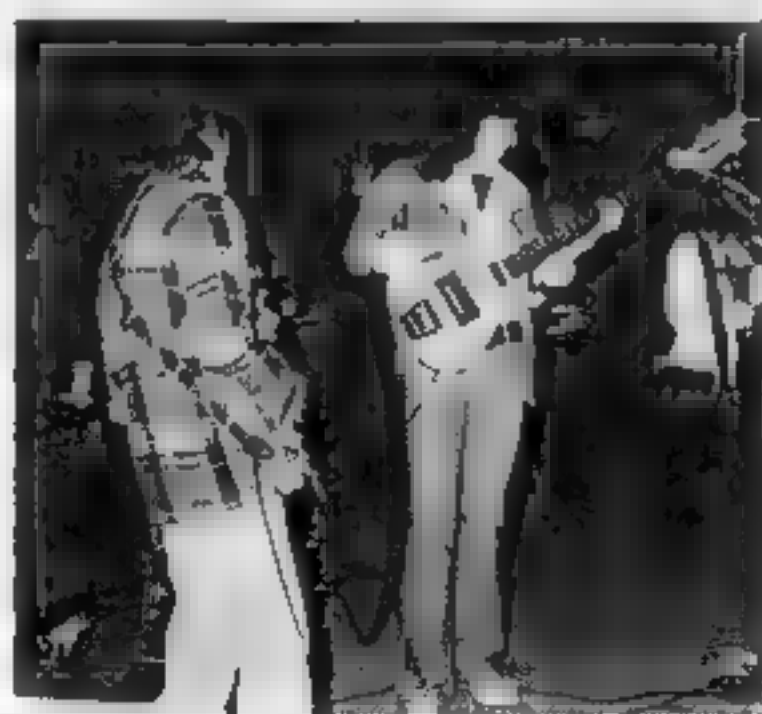

Thanksgiving Mass

22nd

Thanksgiving is a day to thank God for everything He has done for us, but we usually tend to forget this. We just spend our Thanksgiving holidays without thinking about God. For this reason, Fr. Kelso organized a Thanksgiving mass in order to give us an opportunity to thank God. The mass was arranged by the Juniors.

22nd
Bonfire

The Bonfire has now become the annual event of our school. It was this day when the "bon" was fired. After the Bonfire comes the Thanksgiving Holidays, and Thanksgiving somewhat acts as a doorway to winter. So, the Bonfire also plays an important role: it acts like a porch to the house of winter. And the people who made it that way were the Social and the Welfare crew.

10th

Orphan Party

Sponsored by the Sodality and Interact Club, this year's Orphan Party was filled with laughter. The members, as well as the orphans of Kofu Kodomoan, enjoyed the distribution of gifts. The party reached its acme in the final carol sung by the children in return for the gifts.

15th Joint
Christmas Dance

16th Soccer vs ASIJ

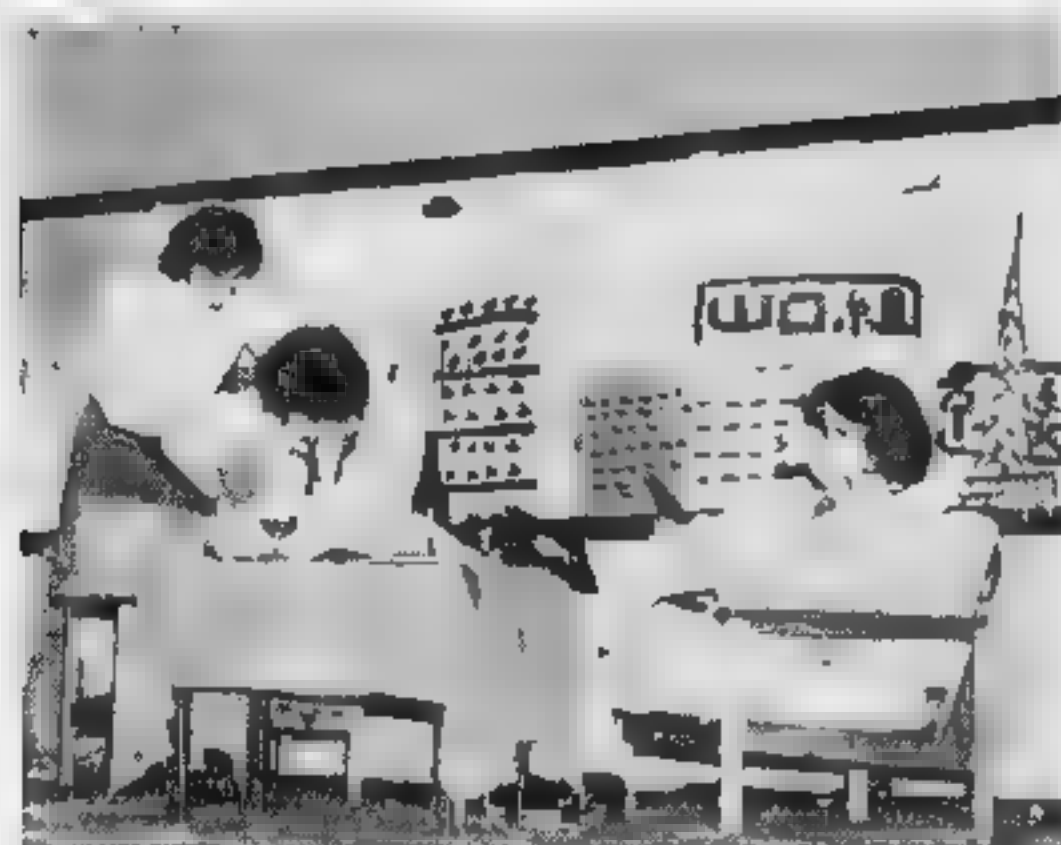

15th, 16th Basketball Tournament

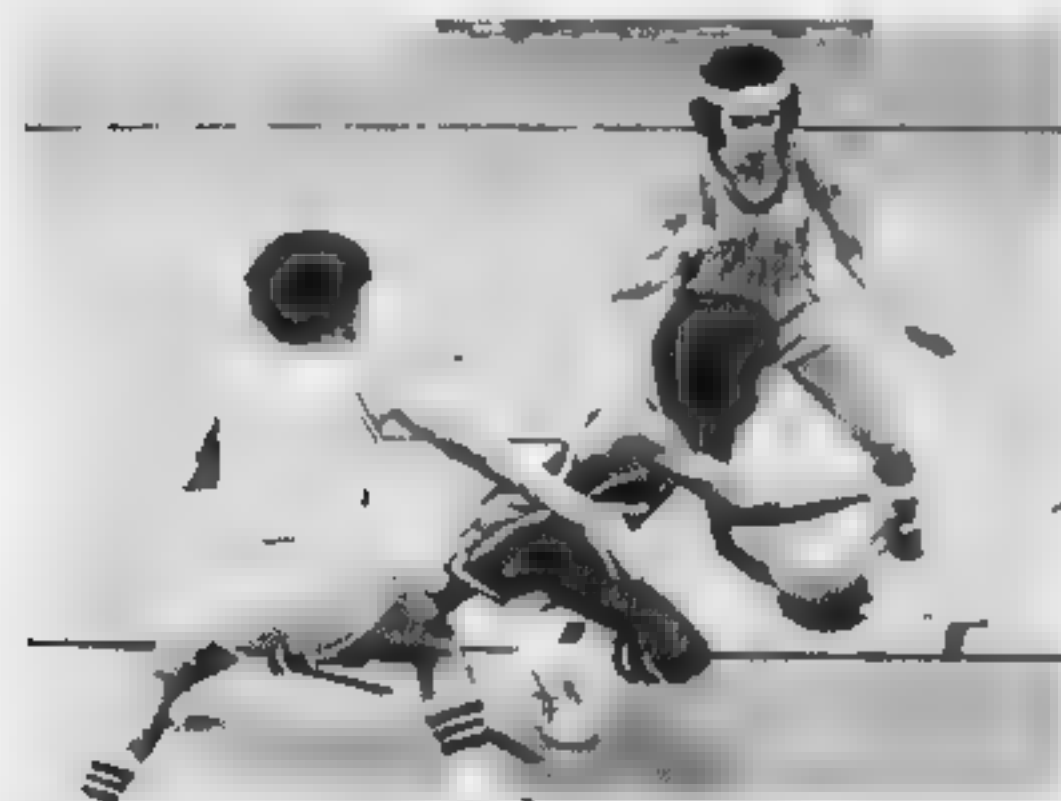

Disregarding negative comments about our gymnasium, the tournament was held between these four schools: Canadian Academy, Nagoya International School, St. Mary, and SJC. On these two days especially, our players looked good, looked good—visually, that is, probably because of the CA's and the NIS's cheerleaders. They hustled throughout the games, but unfortunately, they finished third.

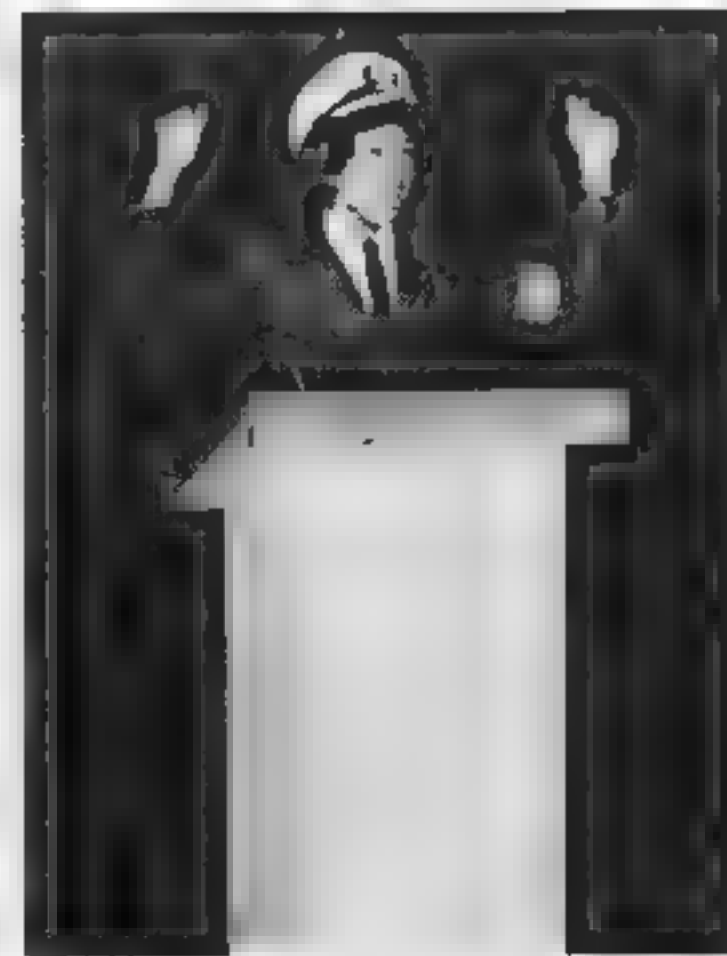

19th Senior Production

The Senior Production was prepared very hastily. It surprised most of the Seniors that the production was held. The Seniors were uncertain about the performance, to hold it or not, but it was Mr. Aff's drastic effort that guaranteed the performance. They started their official rehearsals from the beginning of December, 1978, and the play was successfully held.

22nd Basketball vs St. Mary's

15th St. Joseph's Name
Day Assembly

The Juniors are known for their thespian talent, and they displayed it by putting on a comical-tragedy. The plot was somewhat that of an Agatha Christie mystery although Hercule Poirot did not appear in the story. The actors played roles of famous TV stars as well as cartoon heroes. Unlike Christie-mysteries, the murderer in the play was immortal and invisible, a spirit.

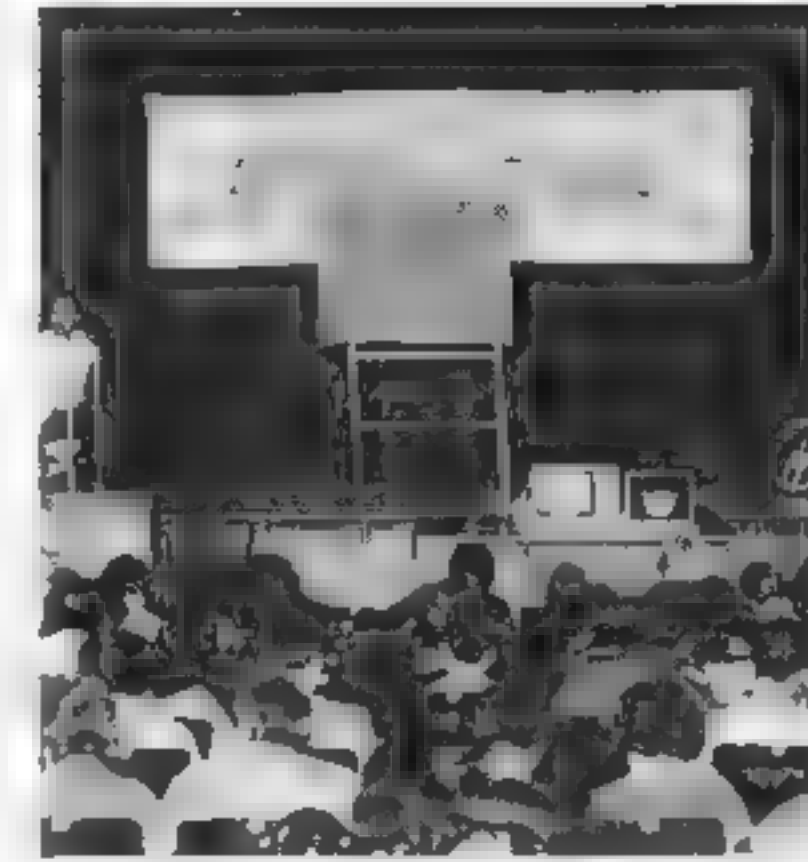

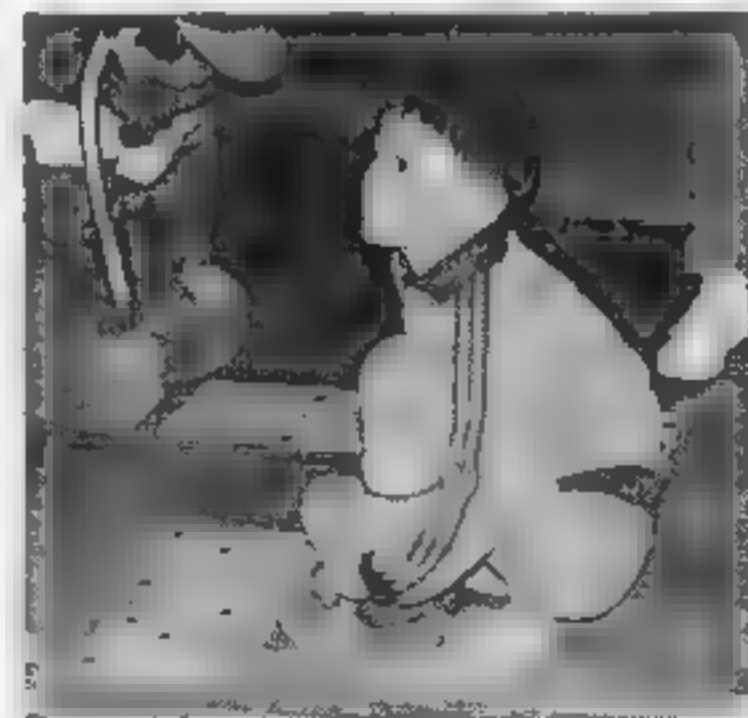

30th, 31st
Music Fair

Spring is the time when we come out from our shells and see winter go by. It is the time when we spontaneously come up with new ideas, thus we are longing to meet new friends. This opportunity for making new friends was given by the Mother's club. They are the ones who sponsored the Bingo/Food Fair at our school. If someone found the crowd at the Fair a little too old or young, the adolescents had the chance at the Music Fair, which was the effort of the Welfare Committee.

31st, April 1st

School Play "See How They Run"

May 1st
Field Day

The 1979 SJC Field Day was officially opened by Bro. McKee's Declaration at 9:00 am. The field day had to be postponed for two consecutive days due to the bad weather. All the athletes showed good sportsmanship. The mothers who had helped organize the Bingo/Food Fair again prepared for the occasion. At about 4:00 pm, results and awards were distributed and the Field Day was closed officially. This year, the Red Team won victoriously. There were many spectators, especially the students' parents who came to cheer for their sons.

The Editing Staff

of 1979

Yotchan, the yopparai editor, as people call him, was the scapegoat of countless troubles caused by the staff and the class. At times, he was up in the air, and at times, he was screaming around the Forward room, which sometimes drove the staff insane. Nevertheless, believe it or not, he spent one-half of his sleeping time designing layouts and helping on the jobs of the photo, ads, and literary works to make this book as it is.

Editor-in-Chief

Our literary chief, posh, was very quiet when everyone was griping about the unsatisfactory equipment of the Forward room. Usually accepting any necessary and unnecessary work with his innocent "eigo-smile", he succeeded in escaping from the editor's moans and grumbles when he failed to submit the essays on time. Thus, according to the editor, he was the "king of procrastination."

Literary Editor

Charlie was complimented by the staff members for doing the minimum, if any, work. But compared to the literary assistant, he showed his existence by creating noise, drinking, eating, contaminating the room and the atmosphere, and finally making the members neurotics. Everyone was in a state of tranquility and internal euphoria when he wasn't around. But all in all, his "always happy" attitude eased the other staff members' melancholic minds.

Ads Layouter

Layouter

This layouter, who was visually non-existent for several months. When the time came for him to work, he got involved in an accident. Thus maintaining the sympathy of the editor, he succeeded in showing up only when he felt like it. Yet his habitual saying of "hayaku-yarou" proved that he was eager for the work, and that he was really "worrying" for the Forward.

Basco, being the photo editor, was one of the most hard-working members we ever had. Always carrying his camera, he took millions of boku pictures and along with the editor, he frequently destroyed valuable films that were of use. Constantly asking for more budget, he was the "orokamono" according to the literary editor. Yet his presence was so great, that his absence for a week was one of the hardest times the staff had. The editor confesses that without him, the book would never have been published.

Photo Editor

Shachō, being the major driver, responsible for any sort of transportation concerning the Forward, showed a tremendous amount of effort to support us financially. Furthermore, he helped the ad layout section, and was responsible for the senior graduation pictures. As the business manager, he went anywhere he could to collect those 66 pages of ads.

Business Manager

Layouter

This "fever boy" spent most of his time dancing and singing "Hoshi no Suna" with the editor, rather than "layouting." In addition, he was constantly accused of vandalizing the staff's property. Yet when the time came, he manifested his talents and responsibilities by executing his task with great dexterity and accuracy.

Photo Assistant

Here's our "mutsuri sukebe," Bianco, who accordingly to his "hima" schedule, always showed up when needed. Contrary to his chief, he took few photos, developed a few, but joked much. Always working sub-consciously, he rarely succeeded in manifesting that he was sometimes enthusiastic. His habitual saying of "Mou yameyou yo," gradually frustrated both the photo editor and the editor.

Literary Assistant

This kyogin was always pondering whether he should stay on the Forward staff or not. Always taking things easy, he was the one responsible for giving millions of troubles and undone work to the literary editor. He was also noted for his unpleasant expressions and words when he was asked to do his job after school. However, he managed to write the Japanese versions of various letters and typed out several essays and lists.

Moderator
Bro. Francis
Grisez

Thanks to Pasquale Sanzio for his contributions; Vijay Khemane for helping the literary staff; K. Hanada and J. Toliver for their ideas; J. Fukuda, J. Park, and M. Tominaga for helping diverse miscellaneous works. The Mothers Club and the Patrons for their financial assistance, Mr. Murayama and his family for the editor's camera, Mr. Stavinsky for his understanding, Mrs. Yoshida for her assistance, and Mr. Tsukamoto of the Dai Nippon Printing for staying late at night each time we visited, and everyone who backed us up in this production.

*Everything should be made as simple as possible,
but not simpler.*

A. Einstein

Special thanks to:
 Selgo Kaneko, Editor '76, for his benevolent advice and comfort, and mending every single gap of the confused thoughts of the editor when there was no way out;
 Father Gerber, for his understanding, pep, and cooperation towards our work;
 Mr. J. Miller, for helping out and organizing when the staff broke out;
 and finally,
 Bro. Francis Grisez, our moderator, for his deep concern, understanding, and integrity toward the editor and the staff.

To the Staff of 1980:
 A good yearbook can only be published when each and every member really becomes aware of his responsibilities and contributes. Never lose hope, and proceed FORWARD forming a circle, having a center called the Editor.
 ALWAYS TRUST YOUR EDITOR....
 Editor '79

My Dear Staff:
 I give my apology for all my ego trips, shouts, screams, commands, my lack of integrity, etc. Take a break, and sleep well.
 editor

Time readily passes by, never changing its phenomenon, and never waiting for anybody. During our long year of '78-'79, I am sure that we, all together, have tasted the bitterness, sorrows, and joys of life.

The days of construction of the Forward were long, hard, and frustrating. Never were we given freedom from the battles against time, conflicts, and worries. Some had to drop out, and there were times when the staff, and myself, had to give up the Forward. The messed Forward room expressed our state of mind. We were pulled back to reality, and had to consider every element which surrounded us. But, they've all passed by, and are now becoming another page of our memories.

This is our book of Memories; at the same time, our hopes for the future. This shall be our shelter when we are too weak to reflect, and our burning fuel to face our mystic future. I shall say: this is yours, your footprints of this past year.

I do not regret the path we've walked along. I've lost so many which I held pride in, and it wasn't a path which I call success, but I've walked my own path. After all, I believe the value of a book is best known by the want of it. How do you like this Forward?

Finally, I give my sincere compliments to everyone involved in the Forward '79, and say farewell.

Editor-in-Chief

Hitoshi Yoshida

*Forward, as occasion offers. Never look round to see whether any shall note
it. . . . Be satisfied with success in even the smallest matter, and think that even such a result is no trifle.*
